Julius Scholars

Summary

Julius Scholars Application

Form for "Julius Scholars Application"

Biographical Questions.

Tell us a little about yourself.

What is your first name?

(No response)

What is your last name?

(No response)

What is your preferred name?

(No response)

What is your email address?

(No response)

What is your mailing address?

(No response)

What is the name of your high school and where is it located?

(No response)

What is your intended major(s) and/or minor(s)?

Here is a link to our eligible majors.

(No response)

How did you hear about the Julius Scholars program?

No Responses Selected

We understand many applicants may enter FSU with college credits earned prior to this year. The Julius Scholars program is a four-year program. Do you acknowledge that, if accepted, you plan to attend FSU for all four years?

No Responses Selected

Essay Section

Take your time with these, and give us a clear view of who you are.

The Julius Scholars program is committed to our donor's desire to address the underrepresentation of women in STEM. We are looking for scholars who don't just recognize this issue, but are driven to address it.

Tell us in no more than 250 words about what inspires your dedication to addressing the underrepresentation of women in STEM, and what parts of the Julius Scholars programming will help you address this.

(No response)

In no more than 250 words, tell us how you would use your time here at FSU to expand your academic boundaries beyond just completing a degree. What experiences would you engage with deeply if you weren't rushing to finish? This could include research, internships, studying abroad, building a community project, or anything else that interests you.

(No response)

Tell us in no more than 250 words about how you have proactively engaged with community. Examples of this could be (but are certainly not limited to) community service, a club, a religious organization, an employment opportunity, or with your family.

Consider the following:

What was your specific contribution to this community?

What did you learn about yourself?

What did you learn about leadership?

What did you discover about collective effort?

(No response)

Here is your chance to tell us more about you, beyond your transcripts and test scores. In no more than 250 words, tell us about any specific responsibilities, challenges, or daily circumstances outside of school that have shaped your high school journey. Please share any context that will help us understand more about you.

(No response)